

Randy Johner (PhD)

Research Area: Multiple Roles, Gender and Health
Thesis Title: Employment and its relationship to low-income single parents' health and social exclusion status in Saskatchewan.
Dept/Institution: Social Work, U of R
CPHR Mentor: Jeffery, Bonnie

Scholarships and Awards

National Welfare-to-Work Forum Graduate Student Travel Award	2003
CIHR & IGH Graduate Student Training Institute	2004
CPHR Strategic Training Fellow	2004
University of South Florida Ethics Research Course Scholarship	2005

Publications

Peer Reviewed

Johner, R. (Spring 2006) Dual Relationship Legitimization and Client Self-Determination. The Journal of Social Work Values and Ethics

Peer Reviewed - In Press

Johner, R. (2005) Allostatic Load: Single Parents, Stress-related Health Issues & Social Care. Health & Social Work

Peer Reviewed - Under Review

Johner, R. (2005) Inequality & Its Relationship to Health. Canadian Journal of Nursing Research

Johner, R. (2005) Understanding Society & Inequality: Any Help from Social Exclusion? Canadian Social Work Review

Presentations

Date: May 31 - Jun 1, 2005

Place: London, ON

Title: Re-Thinking Social Care and Health.

Details: Congress of The Social Science and Humanities, Canadian Association of Schools of Social Work.

Date: Nov 4-6, 2004

Place: Regina, SK

Title: Young Female Lone Parents: Education, Social Exclusion and Health.

Details: School plus Congress 2004.

Research and Related Work Experience

Lecturer; Faculty of Social Work, University of Regina;	1997	Present
Government of Saskatchewan, Department of Community Resources & Employment & Public Safety & Corrections;	1985	2002
Research Assistant; Canadian Plains Research Center;	2002	