

Allisson Quine (PhD)

Research Area: Culture Identity and Health
Thesis Title: Intercultural Anxiety and Cultural Self-Efficacy Among Nursing Students in Saskatchewan.
Dept/Institution: Clinical Psychology, U of R
CPHR Mentor: Hadjistavropoulos, Heather

Scholarships and Awards

University of Regina Proficiency Scholarship	1997
University of Regina Summer Scholarship	1997
Graduate Teaching Assistantship	2002
Saskatchewan Health Internship Scholarship	2002
Graduate Teaching Assistantship	2003
Jullings Award for Excellence in Clinical Psychology	2003
Dr. E.C. Leslie Graduate Student Entrance Scholarship	2003
CPHR Strategic Training Fellow	2003
Graduate Teaching Assistantship	2004
CIHR: Health Professional Student Research Award	2005
Saskatchewan Health Bursary	2005
Graduate Teaching Assistantship	2005

Publications

Peer Reviewed

Hadjistavropoulos, HD., Hadjustavropoulos, T., Quine, A. (2000) Health anxiety moderates the effects of distraction versus attention to pain. Behaviour Research and Therapy Vol. 38: 425-438

Hadjistavropoulos, HD., Asmundson, GJ., Quine, A., LaChapelle, D. (2002) The role of health anxiety among chronic pain patients in determining response to therapy. Pain Research and Management Vol. 7: 127-133

Hadjistavropoulos, H., Bierlein, C., Sagan, M., Garratt, S., Jacobs, T., McNeil, D., Neville, S., Quine, A. (2003) Community case coordination guidelines: Linking risk of institutionalization and case coordination time. Care Management Journals Vol. 4: 202-208

Peer Reviewed - In Press

Quine, A., Hadjistavropoulos, H. (January/February 2006) Patient-Health Care Provider Relationships of Aboriginal and Non-Aboriginal Persons with Type 2 Diabetes. Diabetes Communicator Vol. 01: 10-12

Peer Reviewed - Under Review

Quine, A., Hadjustavropoulos, HD. (2005) Patient-Health Care Provider Relationships of Aboriginal and Non-Aboriginal Persons with Type 2 Diabetes. Canadian Journal of Diabetes

Presentations

Date: Jun 25, 2005

Place:

Title: 2003 Health anxiety among Aboriginal peoples with diabetes. Symposium.

Details: 2003 Canadian Psychological Association Annual Convention.

Research and Related Work Experience

Research Assistant; Regina Qu' Appelle Health Region; Clinical Research & Development Program.	1997	2000
Teaching Assistant; Dept. of Psychology, University of Regina; Introductory Psychology.	2001
Research Assistant; Department of Psychology, University of Regina;	2001	2004
Internship in Clinical Psychology; Prince Albert Mental Health Centre;	2002
Teaching Assistant; Dept. of Psychology, University of Regina; Research Methods.	2002
Teaching Assistant; Dept. of Psychology, University of Regina; Introductory Psychology.	2002
Clinical Practicum; University of Regina; Counseling Services.	2003
Clinical Practicum; Regina Qu' Appelle Health Region; Functional Rehabilitation Program	2004
Teaching Assistant; Dept. of Psychology, University of Regina; Introductory Psychology.	2004
Clinical Practicum; University of Regina; Psychology Training Clinic	2005
Clinical Practicum; Catholic Family Services, Regina;	2005
Psychologist; Wascana Rehabilitation Centre; Children Program.	2005	Present
Psychologist; Regina General Hospital; Developmental Assessment Clinical.	2005	Present